President Message

February has been a busy month for Cincinnati! On February 5th we participated in the Facilities Maintenance & Building Expo at the Oasis Conference Center in Loveland, Ohio. This show is a showcase of products and services to help you more efficiently operate, maintain, and upgrade your warehouse, industrial plant, commercial building, municipal facility or institution. Our chapter volunteers assisted with registration and manning a NAWIC display booth to promote our organization. Candy Riley, CIT facilitated our participation and organized the volunteers for this event – thanks to one and all!

Our Block Kids event was held at Dater Montessori School on February 7 with seventy-eight kids participating. The event was a huge success under the direction of Katie Koettters' and Catie Schmid – kudos for a job well done! A big thank you to all who volunteered to make this event successful. The imagination of the kids is very inspiring.

On February 10, our membership meeting was held at Mayerson Food Distribution Center which is the distribution center for the Freestore Foodbank. The program included a tour of the facility and a presentation by Stephanie Kirschner, National President of the Society of Design Administration and co-chair of Cincinnati CanStruction which has donated over 300,000 pounds of food to the Freestore Foodbank. This meeting was facilitated by Sonya Hughes, Cincinnati Chapter Vice President.

NAWIC is an international association that promotes and supports the advancement and employment of women in the construction industry

On February 10, our membership meeting was held at Mayerson Food Distribution Center which is the distribution center for the Freestore Foodbank. The program included a tour of the facility and a presentation by Stephanie Kirschner, National President of the Society of Design Administration and co-chair of Cincinnati CanStruction which has donated over 300,000 pounds of food to the Freestore Foodbank. This meeting was facilitated by Sonya Hughes, Cincinnati Chapter Vice President.

On February 18, Candy Riley, CIT and I participated in the Northern Kentucky University Construction Management Professional organization night representing NAWIC. We had a display booth and did a ten minute presentation on the purpose of NAWIC and the benefits of membership in our organization.

The Ms. Fix-It Program starts up again on February 24 with subsequent programs on March 26 and April 23. If you can volunteer for any of these programs, please contact Beth Coulson.

This week it was announced that two of our members, Candy Riley, CIT and Sherry Malott, have been selected to be honored as Leading Women of Cincinnati at a luncheon on March 4, 2009. This is indeed a prestigious honor for these well deserving women! Congratulations!

WIC week is just around the corner and has now become our immediate focus. Posters and pins been distributed, proclamations solicited, and it is anticipated an article about NAWIC and our local chapter will be published in the Business Courier during WIC Week. Look for additional information regarding WIC week celebrations via e-mail from Julie Glassmeyer, WIC Chair.

COMMUNICATE, MOTIVATE, & EDUCATE!

TAKING THE CONSTRUCTION CAREERS TO MT HEALTHY HIGH SCHOOL

Rebecca Thompson, CDS, CIT

I was contacted by teacher, Pat Pritz and asked to speak to her high school class about construction as a career. She was introduced to NAWIC at the Construction Career Days several years ago and has contacted me several times to talk with her classes. I was able to speak to about 14 students, show them a set of working blue prints and talked about the many opportunities to work in the construction field. When asked what careers came to mind when I mentioned the word "construction," the students replied with the standards... carpenter, plumber, roofer, electrician, painter. I agreed those were all part of the field, but suggested that there were other opportunities that they hadn't thought of.

Mt Healthy is in the process of building a new high school so we talked through the process of choosing an architect, purchasing land, zoning reviews, construction bidding and contractor selection. We discussed how real estate, banking, zoning, construction insurance and designers all had an impact on and were actually part of the process. We discussed how engineers are involved in the structural and mechanical aspects of the building and why their input was essential.

A number of questions were asked about apprenticeship training, college courses and how to fund them. Questions about co-op programs and why they are a 'win-win' for everyone, student and employer led to more discussion about interviewing and applications. In all, it was an enjoyable hour with a tremendous group of motivated students. I look forward to talking with classes in the future.

Membership Meeting January 13, 2009

CALL TO ORDER:

Vice President Sonya Hughes called the meeting to order at 7:15pm

PROGRAM: Overview of Construction 2009

BLOCK KIDS 2009

Block Kids 2009 was a great success this year! There were 78 enthusiastic and excited children from grades 1-6 that participated in the event and from what we gathered, they all had a blast! There was also a great turnout of NAWIC volunteers as well as parent/teacher volunteers from Dater Montessori. Thanks to all of you who helped out. Without the volunteers, the event wouldn't even be possible.

A BIG thanks goes to all who supported this wonderful event including LaRosa's, who donated lunch for all of the children and volunteers, Denier Electric Co., Inc., AC Electrical Systems, Inc., Messer Construction Co., GEG Painting, Inc., Megen Construction Co., Inc., Graydon Head LLP, Construction Process Solutions, Ltd., Queen City Reprographics and cHc Manufacturing.

Also, a special thanks goes to Julie Faller from Dater Montessori. She was great to work with throughout the planning of the Block Kids event. You can tell that she cares about each and every one of the children that she interacts with. Thanks again Julie! You were awesome!

There is already a school in the works for next year's Block Kids event. There will be more details to come within the next month or so.

Thanks again for everyone's support!
Katie Koettters, Catie Schmid and Laura Collins

Block Kids 2009 Winners

1st Grade - Claire Peterson
2nd Grade - Aidan Smock
3rd Grade - Ahmad Alwawi
* 4th Grade - Jillian Stetter
5th Grade - Kevin Knisley
6th Grade - Rico Stallworth

- Jillian Stetter was our overall winner for the Block Kids event. We will let everyone know how she did as her project will be submitted to Nationals.

CANstruction shows us how all of us can help feed the hungry!

At the February meeting, hosted by the FreestoreFoodbank, members learned about the annual CANstruction event co-sponsored by the Cincinnati Chapters of the Society for Design Administration and American Institute of Architects. Each year this event features intriguing food sculptures built by teams representing local architectural, engineering and design firms. On March 24 through April 6, you can find these amazing canned food sculptures at the Weston Art Gallery, the atrium of the downtown Public Library and at the Taft Museum. These food sculptures are comprised of thousands of cans, boxes and bags of nonperishable food that is then donated to the FreestoreFoodbank. The event also generates cash donations in addition to the collection of food. The purpose of CANstruction is to build awareness of hunger in our community and encourage everyone to get involved in the effort to end it. With that in mind, we challenge everyone to find a way to help make this year's CANstruction bigger and better.

There are many ways we can help in our community's battle against hunger. In conjunction with CANstruction, our companies can hold food drives to collect food and cash for the FreestoreFoodbank. Conducting a food drive is really quite simple and something anyone anywhere can do. It is an opportunity for you to go to the grocery store and buy another family healthy food items that another family can also enjoy. To learn more about how you can organize a food drive at your company, please call Stephanie Kirschner of McGill Smith Punshon. Stephanie's number is 513-759-0004 ext. 235.

We also took a tour of the FreestoreFoodbank's Mayerson Food Distribution Center where 10 million pounds of food is donated, sorted and redistributed each year. The food goes to more than 400 nonprofit agencies who operate food pantries, shelters, and on-site feeding programs in their local neighborhoods. The FreestoreFoodbank serves a 20-county area and provides emergency food to about 189,000 persons annually throughout the Tri-state.

In addition to distributing emergency food, the FreestoreFoodbank operates many programs to help low-income families. Hungry children are a top priority. The Power Pack program provides food for children to take home over weekends and holidays, assuring that they have nutritious food in their homes at times when school meals are not available. This program currently operates in conjunction with Cincinnati, Covington, and Newport public schools and will be expanding to more schools for the 2009-2010 school year. Another program that addresses childhood hunger is Kids Cafe. Children in low-income neighborhoods receive free hot meals along with recreational and educational activities in caring, safe environments within schools, churches or community centers. Both of these programs address the vital need to provide adequate nutrition for growing children since research has shown that a hungry child cannot learn, and a child who cannot learn becomes an adult who cannot earn.

We had a great turnout for our February meeting and our NAWIC members enjoyed a meal prepared by another program of the FreestoreFoodbank--Cincinnati COOKS! This is a free culinary training program offered by the FreestoreFoodbank that teaches low-income adults commercial cooking and kitchen management skills. The program prepares them for employment in the food service industry and helps them find jobs. Students of Cincinnati COOKS! prepare the meals that are served to children attending Kids Cafe, so the two programs work hand in glove to help lift people out of poverty as they help feed hungry children.

Having our February meeting at the FreestoreFoodbank truly provided a learning opportunity for our members and showed us the many ways all of us can get involved in helping those less fortunate. Hunger effects people all year long...not just at the holidays and I hope that as a group we can encourage involvement in CANstruction. As CANstruction reminds us, we all can help in some way.

Jodi Hoover

In 2006 Jodi was hired by High Concrete Group as a Technical Service Manager for the Springboro, Ohio, facility. Then promoted to Continuous Improvement Engineer and most recently to Safety Manager for both Midwest plants. As projects require, it is necessary for Jodi to travel between three of our sister plants (Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania). Most recently working on the new Lucas Oil Stadium, New York Mets Baseball Stadium and the new Meadowlands Stadium. 2009 marks her 17th anniversary in the precast concrete industry both Structural and Architectural. She began working for a precaster in Virginia at the age of 22 in the warehouse. Since then she had varied roles which allowed her to gain a complete knowledge of the industry. Jodi's tenure and reputation have allowed her to fill a position in Field Management in each of the companies that she has worked. Many times, she would be the first if not the only female in Field Management.; and more often than not she found that she was generally the only female other than in the office. It has been a learning experience proving women can be effective leaders in a male dominated industry. Jodi is proud of the contacts and reputation that she has developed through her years in the industry.

Her goals are to be as successful as possible with her company; to be an inspiration to young women who have the drive to succeed in construction and to be a role model of dignity, character, poise and integrity.

Jodi heard about NAWIC from another female associate and she is looking to increase her knowledge base with further certifications offered by NAWIC.

Jodi has a 5 year old black lab, a 10 month old yellow lab and a 3 year old cat named Fred. She was born and raised in Grant County Indiana. Moved to Virginia in the late 80's and recently moved back to the area in 2004 to be close to her family. Jodi loves her work but when not working she enjoys bowling, softball, water sports and projects around the home. She is an avid 'builder' and love working around her yard.

High Concrete Group

High Concrete Group's products include architectural facades, insulated and structural enclosure systems, parking garages, stadiums, other precast structures, and hollowcore planks for commercial, institutional and multi-unit residential applications. Employing more than 900 co-workers, the group has provided precast components for more than 5,000 projects since 1957, and ranks in the top 100 on Engineering News Record's list of the Top 600 Specialty Contractors. High Concrete Group operates plants in Denver and Williamsport, Pa., Buena, N.J., Springboro, Ohio, and Paxton, Ill.

As Employees, Supervisors and Managers representing our company- we strive to display our philosophy: 1. Building trustworthy relationships and 2. Being innovative Leaders. PAY IT FORWARD.

An Invitation to Partner with ReSource on Product Philanthropy

Do you know your business can make a positive community impact during these difficult economic times through product philanthropy? ReSource, the nonprofit for nonprofits, takes business excess and makes it accessible to local charities working to help make ours a better community.

Moving excess inventory from partners such as Ghent Manufacturing, xpedx, The Procter & Gamble Co. and making it accessible to local nonprofits is ReSource's mission. ReSource, formerly Community Resource Center, was founded in 1986 by Robert Castellini and the board of The Greater Cincinnati Foundation.

For more than 22 years, ReSource has served 1,400 area nonprofits, helping them save more than $36 million in operating expenses. Funds saved through ReSource go directly back to nonprofits' mission. Last year, ReSource assisted 451 organizations including Brighton Center, Talbert House and Clermont Senior Services. We serve more nonprofits than any other organization in the Tri-State.

Sustainability is a vital part of our purpose. ReSource accepts anything that a nonprofit needs to run its operations or to help its constituents, items such as:

- Office and conference room furniture
- Workstations, file cabinets and office equipment
- Desk supplies, paper, file folders, pens and pencils
- Cleaning supplies and personal care items
- Educational supplies and toys for children
- Books, gifts, promotional incentive items and more

"You can see the multiplier effect. You really understand the immediate benefit, the gift to the community, the gift to the environment."

Kathryn Merchant, The Greater Cincinnati Foundation

ReSource business partners are immensely generous, donating discontinued inventory, overstocked merchandise, and any unneeded items when downsizing, merging, moving, remodeling or closing. These donations enable ReSource to reduce the expenses of member nonprofits.

Donating, businesses can expect the following benefits:

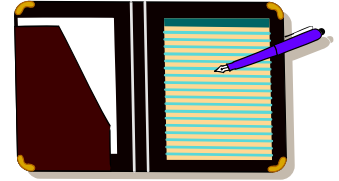

- Items are picked up FREE by an experienced, insured ReSource staff member
- Save on handling, disposal and storage fees
- Impact hundreds of local nonprofits through each contribution to ReSource
- Enhance your community image and receive public recognition for donations
- Show your environmental awareness
- Choose to donate as a – green alternative to disposal
- Earn a tax deduction

Making a donation is easy: ReSource will pick up the donations at your convenience and redistribute them to qualified member nonprofits in need. For more information on how to join ReSource as a business partner or to volunteer, call 513.554.4944.
